
KILIKA MUSIC

Presents

Chris Hartzog

Music From The Hart- For The Heart!

Live Music for Nursing Homes, Hospitals and Convalescent Centers

Making a difference is important. Chris believes bringing live music to nursing homes and convalescent centers is an excellent way to build community, stimulate and brighten people's lives!

Variety: Chris sings and plays guitar, electric bass, and the ukulele. He is a fun and entertaining guitarist and performs music from many different periods. From the 1920's, 1930's up to today. His repertoire includes selections that many seniors will recognize from Standards, Folk, Blues, Country, along with Pop, Gospel/Spirituals and some of his original compositions - all with a touch of humor.

Reaction: Folks usually start reacting to the music from the beginning and often join in by singing, dancing, tapping in time, and/or making requests. Chris keeps things lively with mostly up-tempo songs, and tell stories and jokes and talks to people throughout the show to keep the experience entertaining.

Chris Hartzog has been making music most of his life, including singing in United States Navy chorales, singing and playing guitar in church choirs, electric bass in the Seattle area band "Heaven by Northwest" and presently plays bass for the Woodinville Washington Concert Band.

Show Options:

- Lunch Hour Express - Music to liven up the lunch hour.
- Afternoon Sing-along - An hour of interactive fun.
- Evening Concert - Have a concert to end the day on a happy note.

This is a volunteer service. There is no charge for Chris to play at your location.

